In Memoriam

By THE REV. WILLISIE MARTIN
(Former Chaplain of Second Idaho Infantry)

The story of your heroism and glory is not for me nor any other to write. You wrote it once for all time.

In an hour of crisis you went out to the very frontiers of giving. You crossed the last bridge of sacrifice. You have passed beyond the need of any word of praise from us. Your record stands secure. But for our very souls, we who live upon this shelf of time must not forget you or allow your shield of glory to become tarnished by the accretions of inattention.

A nation that would be great must hold before its citizenry the story of those who have dared greatly for truth and country. Heroism and noble living are nourished mainly by tales of daring and heroic sacrifice.

A nation mounts upward by the remembered graves of its heroic dead. You do not need us. But we dare not forget you. The memory of your supreme gift of life for country quickens our courage and we gather strength to carry on, so that by the road of your sacrifice will come a greater tomorrow.
