OROFINO TO GET STEEL BRIDGE.

Citizens Subscribe $500 Necessary to Insure Foot Bridges on Either Side of Structure.

Orofino Creek will soon be spanned with a handsome steel structure at Johnson Avenue. The new bridge replacing the old wooden structure now occupying the crossing of the stream by the county road. The committee appointed by the Commercial Club to consult with the county commissioners, met with the club Saturday night and reported. The commissioners agreed to build the wagon bridge, but would not go to the extra expense necessary to secure sidewalks on each side of the structure and asked the town through its citizens to furnish a bond for $500 to cover the extra expense necessary for the walks. The matter was debated by the club and it was finally decided to appoint a committee of three to furnish bond pending action by the city board in the matter. The committee appointed, John Mix, A. E. Holmberg and Pitt McRoberts, drew up a bond which was signed by the following citizens: W. M. Peatman, A. E. Holmberg, J. M. Fairly, John Scott, Dwight L. Wheelock, Wm. Bennell, O. A. Anderson, John Buescher, Emil Opplinger, Horace Noble, John O'Connor, Pitt McRoberts, Wm. Wellman, Frank Jones, J. E. Pickard, W. C. Foresman, John Mix, W. C. Palmer, L. L. Lattrop, Dan Delaney.

It is the intention of the county, to immediately ask for bids on the structure so that work may be commenced as soon as possible and the structure finished this summer. The plans and specifications of the bridge are not at hand but we understand the piers will be of concrete, and the structure a ninety foot steel span, doing away with the pier in the center of the creek. It has been suggested by citizens that the old bridge be removed to Main Avenue and erected there, as it will only be a short time until another bridge will be necessary to accommodate the growth of the town. The expense of this latter move to be borne partly by the town and partly by interested property owners.

N. P. Withdraws Surveyors From North Fork Country.

After reaching a point sixteen miles above the mouth of the Little North Fork, and encountering snow of sufficient depth to make surveying out of the question, the Northern Pacific Engineering department has withdrawn its surveying parties and is now rapidly engaged in transporting camp equipment, supplies etc., by team and pack train from that region. One scout camp will however, be maintained at Big Island to watch and report any movements made by the Milwaukee in that section. It was stated at the time of the Milwaukee's withdrawal, that the N. P. would immediately follow suit and this surmise seems correct. Both sides have given it out that the deep snow and weather conditions have had all to do with the recent withdrawals of the rival companies from that region. The Milwaukee pack train was taken to St. Marys, which some seem to think is an indication that this road has abandoned any attempt to reach the North Fork from its present line that terminates at Trumbull. There is also a rumor here that the N. P. contemplates a line from Orofino to the east of town, practically paralleling its Clearwater line for a distance of 16 miles. This line to climb gradually out of the canyon, by a succession of bridges and tunnels similar to the Culebra line and by this route reach the high ground to the east of us after which the engineering difficulties, so frequent in other lines surveyed, would be greatly minimized and a direct route through the mountains secured. All this is mere conjecture and a newspaper man should not be blamed for not being able to route a great transcontinental railroad when the engineering heads of the same are in doubt as to the outcome.

explanations of the floods given by such scientists are of especial interest. Etienne Stanislas Mouton, a French geologist, considers the phenomenon to be more of a geological than a meteorological nature. He decries the soil of the entire basin on the Rhine has become filled to the point of complete saturation in the preceding three months of general rains with moderate temperatures, which retarded evaporation. When the heavy rains of the last week the ground was abso-ridader, infatuated with the girl, from bed beside his wife, the girl's mother, on the night of December 15 and entering the girl's bedroom and bound her, and fled for Mexico. Later the girl managed to escape from her stepfather and make her home, where she told a story of inhuman treatment and enforced abortions. Since then the hunt for Alcala has been relentless, ending with his capture when he ventured back to his home.

When Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Pope, residing five miles northwest of Coeur d'Alene, awoke yesterday they found Harold Ray, their son, aged 2 years, dead by his side in bed. With the exception of a slight cold the child was in its usual good health when they went to bed. The cause of death is a mystery, though it is thought membranous croup.

"Rents" Finch, who recently became the third child of his 25th child, is again in trouble with his old enemy, C. O. Redmond. The Finch-Redmond feud is of long standing and has caused many outbreaks, some resulting in bloodshed. Recently, Finch alleged, Redmond pulled a gun and threatened to do him great bodily harm. Thereupon he had Redmond arrested and he was released on a $300 bond.

FIERCE FIGHT WITH DOGS.

Mining Engineer Has Exciting Experience on Reservation.

Portland, Ore.—Maddened by starvation, the Indians of human flesh, a pack of seven vicious dogs attacked Angus McQueen, a local mining engineer, and his horse, on the Grande Ronde reservation, and gave him a terrible battle before he could beat them to and make his escape. McQueen returned from the fastnesses of the Coast range and related his thrilling experiences. The fight with the dogs came in front of the cabin of "Yamhill Joe," a noted Indian guide, hunter and trapper, whose wrangled the mauling brutes had half devoured. McQueen fled from the spot, riding rapidly to Grande Ronde for assistance. He notified the priest who cares for the spiritual welfare of the redmen on the reservation, and the two, with a couple of Indians, went back to the lonely cabin in the forest.

Here the entire party was again set upon by the beasts, and the man was forced to brain four of the dogs before the others could be subdued and access gained to the hermit's hole.

HIGH PRICES CAUSE CHILD LABOR EVIL.

Expense of Living Drives Children From Schools, Says Inspector Davies.

Chicago—Factory Inspector Davies recently issued a statement that high prices of food have driven the children of poor parents out of school and into factories, shops and stores. Figures compiled by the state for the last two months of the year of 1902 show that a surprisingly large number of children were forced to abandon their studies in order to help parents unable to get along without the aid. Davies attributes this condition to extortionate prices charged for the necessities of life. The following figures are as follows: During November, 1902, 900 children dropped out of school; in December, 1902, 704 children dropped out; in January, 1903, 689 children dropped out; in February, 1903, 569 children dropped out.

A tramp whom David Orstein of Nashville, Tenn., fed and housed one cold night in 1904 reappeared at Orstein's place today and asked for and ate his dinner, and then handed the amazed former a $20 goldpiece. The man said he had prospered and had determined to reward Orstein in the guise of a tramp. He left without telling his name.

CHEAP MEAT IS A HORSE ON CHICAGO.

Equines Killed by Wholesale and Fresh Sold for Food.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—In an official report to the Illinois state food commission, made public today, State Inspector Henry says that horses are being slaughtered by the wholesale in Chicago and that the meat is being sold and distributed for human consumption. The meat, he says, is being cut in roasts, steaks and managed and sold to free lunch counters in Chicago and to some farming districts and mining camps where foreigners are employed.

Heretofore, says the report, it was thought all horse meat prepared in Chicago was for shipment to Copenhagen, and the fact that it is being put up for home consumption is looked upon as necessitating a new state law regulating the killing of horses. All horse killing, it was reported, was done by small slaughtering houses. In one place, it was found, 15 horses a week were killed. Products of this place went to Wisconsin and Illinois.

Inquiry at a cheap boarding house disclosed the fact that "meat" was purchased at 6 cents a pound when butchers in the neighborhood were asking 9 cents for the cheapest meat.

TO CONTROL COLD STORAGE.

Would Prevent Holding Eggs and Meat for More Than Year.

Trenton, N. J.—George B. Wight, state commissioner of charities, believes that state control of cold storage plants can be made an effective weapon for regulating prices of foodstuffs.

The state board of health, in the judgment of the commissioners, should have the supervision over all cold storage products brought into the state, and no food from cold storage should be placed on sale except upon certification from the proper authorities. He would have every packing marked with the date of receipt.

If this of marketing, he says, public opinion would make it impossible for dealers to sell at 45 or 50 cents a dozen eggs which were purchased by speculators a year or two before at 20 cents. In his own reasoning, he thinks, applies to meats and other cold storage products.

POISON IN SWOPE STOMACH.

Demand Investigation as to Cause of Death of Dead Millionaire.

Kansas City, Jan. 30.—Poison has been found in the organs of Colonel Thomas D. Swope and his nephew, Christian, and upon this finding the heirs of the dead millionaire will demand an investigation by the state to ascertain the cause of the death last fall of these two men. This definite statement was made recently by a representative of the Swope estate following the receipt of a partial report of the chemists in Chicago.

The exact conclusions reached so far by the Chicago chemists are guarded closely. It is expected the chemists are still pursuing their investigations. John G. Paxton, executor of the Swope estate, who received a message from Dr. Harkness requesting him to go to Chicago for a conference with him, announced that they would leave for that city immediately. Mr. Paxton declined to talk regarding the chemist's report or go into the case.

COURT REVIVES OLD STYLE.

Requests Lawyers to Appear in Black and White.

Newark, N. J.—Miss Virginia Wardlaw, Mrs. Caroline Ward and Mrs. Mary Sneed, charged with the murder of Mrs. George Sneed, were arraigned recently and pleaded not guilty. Chief Justice Gammon announced he would preside at the trial, which he set for the first Monday in April, and asked that all lawyers who appear in the case be attired in black and white in court. This is a revival of an old custom in New Jersey courts which long ago fell into disuse.

BALLINGER SPEAKS

EXPRESSES HIS VIEWS BEFORE R. I. CLUBS.

Secretary Believes Real Conservation of Resources Is a Good Thing—Says Natural Resources Should Not Be Bottled Up—Opposes Some Extreme Notions of Others.

Providence, R. I., Jan. 30.—Secretary Ballinger, speaking last night before the Conservation Club of Rhode Island and the Economic Club of Providence, which met together to hear him, gave his views on conservation of national resources and declared that conserving them does not mean bottling them up. "Some people, I fear," declared Mr. Ballinger, "have a notion that to conserve our natural resources we must pickle them or bottle them up. All kinds of extreme notions are likely to advance by state means. It is a practical view of the subject. It was confronted recently by the suggestion that the government build homes on the remaining public lands, stock them and rent them to applicants and become the landlord of the public domain."

"It is all right to place reasonable restraints upon the use of our natural resources to prevent the mischiefs which result from monopoly and greed and extortion, but when you attempt to regulate a man's private business or declare how he shall use his property, so that he can no longer exercise a reasonable independence over it, he may as well surrender his business and his property to the state and let the state operate it."

"Individuality and incentive for industry will certainly disappear under any system of public regulation and control that imposes a state guardianship over the citizen. The American system of government contemplates the freest possible exercise of individual liberty consistent with the public good, and in discussing the conservation of our natural resources and the supervision, regulation contemplates the freest possible exercise by federal or state authority this principle should be constantly recognized."

"After all, the question of conservation is a question of practicing with our resources frugally and economy. Frugality and economy waste of our inheritance in this particular, of course, is to be restrained whenever and wherever the power exists and particularly when the loss affects the future happiness of mankind."

"Our nation's future is the highest degree is involved in the perpetuation of our wealth and the ability of our people to live in happiness and prosperity in all generations to come. Therefore we can justify any state action that can gratify his lust for wealth or his ambition for power by destroying the opportunities of others to live and enjoy their share of the bounties of nature."

Should Be Developed.

Water power resources should be developed under government control, Mr. Ballinger insisted, to save the coal and the forests from being consumed for fuel. Mr. Ballinger declared that such development should be through private enterprise, under government supervision and control, and that congress should give to the executive branch of the government authority to obtain both results.

"In view of the national interest in these resources," concluded the secretary, "it is incumbent upon congress to give to the executive branch of the government such power and authority to protect against the continued waste and destruction of the public domain. And it is the earnest determination of this administration that it may be clothed with sufficient authority and equipped with the necessary machinery to accomplish all that is possible through federal agencies in this particular."

The enemies of Governor Brady are seeking to place him between the devil and the deep sea on the liquor question. Clagstone is touring the state in his own behalf for governor and his friends have given it out that his entering the race depends on the attitude of the governor on this important subject. If Brady declares for state wide prohibition, then Mr. Clagstone will not enter the race, but if he does not declare for state wide prohibition he (Clagstone) will announce his candidacy on a state wide platform, hoping thereby, to gather under his banner all the ultra temperance people of the state. If Governor Brady does not declare for prohibition, state wide, then we will have three candidates in the field in the race for governor, Clagstone on a prohibition plank, Brady and O'Neill on local option. It would be hard to say just what would be the effect, and to what proportion three candidates would divide the vote of the state. The entrance of O'Neill into the field would draw the liquor influence from the other two contestants and also the united strength of the so-called Tax Payers League, now being continued throughout the state as an auxiliary to the movement to defeat Governor Brady, or any candidate likely to run on a prohibition plank. O'Neill would also have the advantage of the compact vote of the towns and cities which can be easily organized and gotten to the polls. The effect upon the governor's chances would then lie mainly with the strength of the Clagstone move, for state wide prohibition, as those closest to the governor have recently given it out that he will stay strictly with his party platform of two years ago but would not veto a prohibition bill, should one pass the next legislature. With the governor taking this position it now looks as though Idaho republicans would join in a three cornered fight with the liquor question as the pivot around which the war will be waged.

Press despatches tell us that Mr. Taft's policies are not to be taken up and enacted into laws by the present congress. If this is true, then we would naturally ask, what has Mr. Taft advocated in his messages that is detrimental to the interests of the American nation? We will admit that the enactment into laws of Mr. Taft's policies such as Postal Savings Banks, and better and broader laws for curtailing the great trusts and corporations, that have now reached a point where they dictate the prices of what we eat and wear, and openly ask us what we are going to do about it. If these policies are distasteful to our legislators, because they build for the people and not the interests, then we should promptly get a new set of legislators, that are in sympathy with our president and his conception of laws needful for the nation's welfare. If men cannot be found strong enough to withstand the "influence" of the trusts and corporations now ruining this country, let us cease the expense of sending men to congress, and turn the country over to the trusts, that would at least, be a great economy in our present system, as well as putting a stop to the mockery of popular government, now rampant at Washington. If Mr. Taft's policies as advocated by his messages are hurtful to the country then let the members of congress who oppose his policies, state to the people wherein the policies are hurtful. Let us be honest upon the subject.

President Peatman's remarks last Friday night on re-organizing the commercial club were timely and to the point. Orofino will no doubt make great strides during the year, in city building and a good, wide-awake commercial club will do more to enhance the city's progress than any other means within our reach. A commercial club is supposed to be a place where all partisan spirit is laid aside and where all labor side by side for the common good. Many things are to be done this year that will have a bearing on our little city for many years to come. Then let us lay aside any prejudice we might have for this or that and put our shoulders to the wheel and make Orofino one of the best towns in the Clearwater country.

The people of Boise led by the Boise Statesman, are making a vigorous fight against the meat trust. In this they are to be joined by the state of Idaho and the county of Ada. Violation of the pure food law of the state, selling short-weight meat, and refusing to comply with the regulations of the State Board of Health and failure to properly label butter, are some of the charges on which the butchers and packers are likely to be prosecuted.

Nellie May Farmer Plaintiff, VS.
Avery G. Farmer Defendant.
The State of Idaho South, Greeting.
To Avery G. Farmer Defendant.
You are hereby directed, that there is on file in this office of the Clerk of the District Court of the Second Judicial District, State of Idaho, in and for the County of Nez Perce, the complaint of the above named Plaintiff, a copy of which complaint is attached hereto. This action is brought to dissolve the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between said plaintiff and defendant; for a decree of the Court awarding plaintiff the care and custody of the minor children named in said complaint as the issue of said marriage of plaintiff and defendant, to wit: Charley Herold Farmer and Minnie Edna Farmer, and praying for judgment against said defendant, Avery G. Farmer, for her costs and disbursements in this action. Said complaint alleges that plaintiff and defendant were married at Des Moines, Iowa, on January 5, 1900, and at all times since have been and now are husband and wife; that plaintiff is now and for more than six months last past immediately preceding the commencement of this action she has been continuously residing at Nez Perce county, Idaho; that almost ever since the date of said marriage defendant has been addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating liquors, and since the summer of 1905 he has used intoxicating liquors to such an excess that he has been a great portion of the time, incapacitated from the transaction of ordinary business; that almost continuously since the date of said marriage the defendant has used vile and vulgar language toward the plaintiff and called her vile names; that in the month of June, 1906, the defendant, without any cause or provocation on part of plaintiff, struck her with his fists and knocked her down, and down and beat her over the side and shoulder with a stick gun; that defendant has never provided plaintiff or her children with the necessities of life; that they have two children, to wit: Charley Herold and Minnie Edna May, aged 4 and 5 years respectively; that defendant is not fit or proper person to have the care and custody of said children, and that plaintiff is a fit person to have such custody.

You are hereby directed to appear and answer said complaint within twenty (20) days after the service hereof upon you if served within said District, and within forty (40) days if served elsewhere, unless you so appear and answer, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Attest my hand and the seal of the District Court of the Second Judicial District, State of Idaho, in and for Nez Perce County, this 15th day of January, 1910.

THEY ROBBED THE RICH.

Robbers at Kansas City Show Fine Disposition in Their Trade.

Kansas City, Jan. 30.—A modern hoodlum is plying his trade in Kansas City. While last week he was disappearing with his hand of two into the woods east of the outskirts of the city, after having robbed J. P. Landen, a trusted collector of a prominent coal and grain company, of $215 of the firm's money and refusing to take $25 belonging to Landen personally.

The robbery occurred in a sparsely settled district. Landen, while driving along the road, was held up by three men, who, after relieving him of a wallet containing the firm's money, emphasized their demands for more booty by showing a revolver in his face and ordering him to shell out some more.

Landen produced a single five-dollar bill, protesting that it was his own property and was all the money he had. "Well, we don't want it, then," was the response of the spokesman. "We rob only the rich. Keep it for your wife and kids."

The robbers then bound Landen to a tree and escaped. He managed to free himself and make alarm. A squad of mounted policemen scoured the woods until darkness, but no trace of the highwaymen was found.

Some people get credit for being patient when in reality they are too cowardly to start anything.
