MADE BOGUS MONEY COUNTERFEITERS NABBED IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Federal Authorities Claim This Will Be A Very Important Capture—Doors Battered Down to Gain Admittance— Plant Located in Shack—One of Gang Makes Escape.

San Francisco.—The most complete and expensive case counterfeiting outfit that has ever fallen into the hands of the federal authorities was captured here by secret service men recently and with it three men were arrested. The secret service men admit that the seizure are of the greatest importance and followed months of unremitting effort, with trails leading in many directions.

The plant was located in a lonely shack on the rocky summit of Berry's heights, the highest hill in the city, and was captured after a spectacular assault. Secret service operatives Harry Moffit and J. M. Nye were on the job and after definitely locating their quarry they called City Detective Ivan Hegana and O'Connell to their aid.

On Hands and Knees.

Last night the detectives on watch in the shrub-covered rocks saw four of the men they had marked enter the shack, but the attack was deferred in the hope that other members of the gang might come to cover. They were disappointed in this and late this afternoon Operative Moffit decided to act.

Creeping on hands and knees the four officers approached the shack and on signal made a rush, but the house was well barricaded and they were compelled to batter an entrance with sledge hammers. While they were smashing in the doors one member of the gang escaped, making his way down a cliff as whose brink the hill stands. The three men gave their names as Michael Angelo, Samuel Diola and Samuel Arman. These are probably assumed names, and there is reason to believe that at least two of the prisoners are important captives.

After securing their prisoners the officers examined the plant, which filled the little but well furnished shack to the complete mechanical excellence of the machinery. It was a miniature mint. They found almost perfect dies for every coin from ten cents to two dollars, and lathe, saws, stamps and other accessories of the finest workmanship.

Stamps Same as in Mint.

The stamps are said to be of almost the same pattern as those used in the United States mints. The largest stamp was so massive that it could not be carried into the federal building. It is too powerful for hand operation and probably fearing the noise of a motor or other power engine the gang had devised and installed a complicated and ingenious system of levers and graduated weights applied by a long steel beam. No coins or metal were found, the raid having been timed just before the mint was to have been placed in operation.

It is said the clue to the counterfeiters began with the purchase of the big stamp and has been followed for months. They refuse to say, however, where the stamp was bought.

"Coins from die identical with those we have here now," said one of the officers, "are now in circulation in the east and may have been made with this machine. It is probable, however, that the gang is part of a country-wide organization."

BALLINGER-PIMPHOT TRIAL COMMITTEE

List Said to Have Approval of Regular Republicans, Insurgent and Democrats.

The following members of congress will constitute the joint committee that will investigate the charges that have been made against Secretary of the Interior Ballinger:

From the senate—Republicans, Nathan Minnesota; Root, New York; St. Dennis, Utah; Philat, California; Demos, Hughes, Colorado; Payne, Kentucky.

From the house—Republicans, Omsted, Pennsylvania; McCall, Massachusetts; Stevens, Minnesota; Madison, Kansas (insurgent); Demograts—James Kentucky; Rainey, Illinois.

Mining Prohibited.

Captain John McA. Webster, superintendent of the Spokane Indian reservation in eastern Washington, announces in a statement that no mining claims can be located on the reserve until President Taft issues a proclamation opening the mineral lands to location and entry. The first of these claims, early next spring, when it is predicted, there will be a rush. Meanwhile, any one attempting to stake out such claims will be treated as trespassers and evicted from the reservation.

COOK'S SECRETARY ADMITS DISTRUST

Walter Lonsdale, Who Curried Records to Copenhagen, Has His Doubts.

Copenhagen.—Walter Lonsdale is the most recent of the former associates and employees of Dr. Frederick A. Cook to admit a distrust of the man whom he claims to be the discoverer of the north pole was rejected by the University of Copenhagen.

Lonsdale was private secretary to United States Minister Egan up to the time of the arrival here of Dr. Cook, with whom he then associated himself in a similar confidential capacity.

He accompanied the explorer to the United States, made the typewritten duplicate of the polar records and brought the data here for examination by the university committee. He remained loyal to his employer until the time when he says he is beginning to doubt him.

Lonsdale states that he received a letter from Cook under date of December 24 and mailed from a city in southern Spain. According to this letter Cook was on the sea from December 14 to December 24, and therefore not acquainted with the decision of the examining committee when the letter was written. Since the receipt of this letter Lonsdale says he has heard nothing from Cook, though he has addressed several telegrams to him at a point where he thought the explorer could be reached.

GOOD ROAD MOVEMENT

All States Are Urged to Cooperate and Help.

Ex-President Roosevelt struck the keynote when, in his comment on the report of the country life commission, he said: "It is the application of the knowledge already in the possession of the great majority of the rural population which means the actual uplift of the country to what it really should be, the life worth while."

Since, then, the initiative must come from the farmer and the township organization, it is proper that the county organization assume the position of a central clearing house for the various townships, setting as a collecting, distributing and investigating organization.

The county organization, as conducted in Spokane, assumes the attitude of mediator and mentor for its smaller township organizations, with which it is working for mutual economic interests and the development of a community spirit.

The large moneyed interests of the city, the automobile owners, real estate dealers, merchants, manufacturers, railroad and other transportation companies are asked to do their proportionate share toward securing good roads throughout the county. When the state levies a tax on all mill on all taxable property in a county to be applied to the state highway fund, it is reasonable to presume that the large holders of real and personal property in the cities are contributing as much, if not more, of their proportionate share of the actual money spent by the state on country roads, yet this phase of the case is the one which is hardest to impress on the resident of the rural communities.

MEN DIE IN GUNNISON TUNNEL

Smoke and Gases Blown Back, Three Men Perish.

Montrose, Col., Jan. 18.—Three men were suffocated by powder smoke and nitro fumes in the Gunnison tunnel Sunday and 30 others barely escaped with their lives. Air currents of the tunnel were reversed by the concussion of heavy blasts and the smoke and gases were blown back upon the miners before they could reach the portal.

The dead: A. S. Haynes, Parker Park and N. Martin.

Immigrants Like Northwest.

A statement issued by the bureau of immigration shows that the year ended June 30, 1909, out of a total of 751,795 immigrants admitted to the country 15,218 were destined for the state of Washington. Only about a quarter as many were for Oregon. During the same time only 1,294 alien emigrants departed from the state for foreign countries.

From July to September, inclusive, 3,036 immigrants for the state of Washington arrived out of a grand total of 133,614, and 258 departed for foreign shores.

Weston to Walk Again.

Edward Payson Weston, the aged pedestrian, is planning to walk from Los Angeles to New York, starting January 29. He hopes to establish a new record for the trip.

The prodigal son, repentant, or at any rate weary of the list of mistakes forced upon his kind by a vigilant police system, had experienced a change of heart and joined the church. The good sisters were discussing his desire to

BRITISH ELECTIONS LIBERALS SURE TO SUFFER GREAT LOSSES.

Unionists Make Gains—Lloyd-George Mobbled by Big Crowd at Grimsby— He Sought Protection of the Police— Popular Vote Goes Against the Govern- ment in Many Constituencies.

The recent elections in London and provincial constituencies indicate a liberal majority in the next parliament of anywhere from 100 to 150.

The standing of the various parties, including untested seats, follows: Unionists, 43; liberals, 27; laborites, 6; nationalists, 1; violentists, 10; liberal gains, 3; labor gains over liberals, 1; no change, 69.

Of the 12 seats contested in London, the liberals hold seven and the unionists five, three of the latter being gains in North Lambeth, Finsbury and Fulham.

The results of the polling tend to confirm the forecast that the liberals will retain control of the government with a greatly reduced majority. The unionists have gained an encouraging number of seats, although less than 29 which they expected to take away from the liberals out of the 74 allotted for the popular vote goes strongly against the liberals. The members of that party who held seats were them in this election, five, three of the latter being gains in North Lambeth, Finsbury and Fulham.

Liberal Majority Reduced.

The results of the polling tend to confirm the forecast that the liberals will retain control of the government with a greatly reduced majority. The unionists have gained an encouraging number of seats, although less than 29 which they expected to take away from the liberals out of the 74 allotted for the popular vote goes strongly against the liberals. The popular vote goes strongly against the liberals. The members of that party who held seats were them in this election, five, three of the latter being gains in North Lambeth, Finsbury and Fulham.

Manchester and Birmingham give heavy unionist gains. Birmingham has been a liberal seat, the result of Joseph Chamberlain's crusade for protection. The unionists carried the city solidly by increased majorities, in Manchester the unionists increased their votes, for while the liberals still have five of the six seats, the liberals' majorities were decreased nearly 9,000.

The most sweeping change in London was in Fulham borough, where the middle class population went enthusiastically for tariff reform, giving W. Hayes Fisher, unionist, a majority of 2,900.

Devonport, where the big navy issue was predominant, wiped out the liberal majority.

Waldorf Astor and Sir H. Mortimer Durand, the former ambassador to the United States, who contested the two Plymouth seats as unionists, were defeated.

W. J. Wynne-Hicks, the unionist who beat Winston Churchill in the Manchester bye-election of 1908 by 491 votes, loses his seat to Sir G. Kent, liberal, by 785.

Dr. Hon. G. Wyndham, who will be governor general of Canada if appointed, takes on the government, carried his seat by a slightly increased majority.

Premier Asquith's brother-in-law, Sir E. Tennant, lost his seat for Salisbury to the unionist, G. Locker-Tyson, by 255.

Mob Menace Lloyd-George.

The most exciting scenes occurred at Grimsby, where a menacing crowd threatened David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, compelling him to flee under protection of the police guard from a hall where he had been speaking, and he was driven from a prominent place at Birmingham, during the South African war, when he escaped disguised as a policeman.

Part of the provocation for the hoarse shouting toward him is accord by the chancellor's unusual course in addressing the voters on polling day, which has never obtained before in England, and which is considered unconstitutional by many. His speech included a prediction of disaster to the German fleet if it fought England.

Referring to invincibility of the British navy, he declared:

"If the German fleet, in a moment of madness, ever attacked Great Britain it would be at the bottom of the ocean in a very few hours."

A big crowd waited outside the hall, and when the chancellor appeared raised a shout of "Traitor," "Prophet," "Lloyd-George deviled" with- in the building and a cordon of police kept back the crowd.

The polling was noteworthy from the thousands of automobiles employed in London districts to carry voters to the polls. Unionists, that being the party of the rich, had by far the greater number of motors at their command.

Several cabinet members spoke before their constituents. Premier Asquith, Secretary of State, Lord Grey and Chancellor Lloyd-George devoted their speeches mainly to upholding the government's management of the navy.

Winston Churchill, president of the house of commons, speaking at Dundee, denounced the party of privilege and class.

Street lighting by gas was done for the first time in London in 1814.

AIRSHIPS FLY HIGH PLAY TAG AND DO STUNTS IN THEIR FLIGHT.

Great Contests in Los Angeles—Great Crowds Interested in Results—Fight Against Bad Weather Victory for Operators—Meet Was Great Success—Enthusiety Free from Accidents.

Aviation Camp, Los Angeles, Jan. 17.—The wind and the rain compelled Sunday to test the mettle of the airships flying about Aviation field. The result was victory for Glenn H. Curtiss and Louis Paulhan.

In half a mile of wind Curtiss rose to a height of more than 100 feet and was performed pretty a piece of aeroplanes jockeying as the wind has ever seen. He described circles in daring fashion, lifting and dipping and leaning against the wind, and winding up by cutting the motor.

Paulhan strove to outdo this, going up 212 feet and circling about like a hawk over a barnyard. But his exhibition had a something of the skill shown by the Yankee.

Another wonder picture was painted: Curtiss, Paulhan and Charles E. Hamilton in his own aviation, swung round in an aerial war. At times they raced together, heading against the wind. Again they played tag with each other. They flew under, over and around each other, guiding their tremendous wings with ease.

They knew that the wind strains the delicate silk, places and pulls at the fastenings with cruel fingers. A sudden gust and the planes might crumple and dash the driver to the earth. But the crowd was there and something had to be done to amuse it.

Through the rain of the morning the people went in droves to the field, standing in the dripping state.

Frenchman Tries for Speed.

Paulhan came up with a rush and sailed past the grandstand in two quick seconds. He veered and shot out of the course, back of the grandstand 300 feet high, going over the field again for a short run. When he came down he said that he had intended to try 19 laps for speed but found the wind too strong on the westernward course.

Then Curtiss came out in a preliminary flight. Hamilton and Paulhan started together in a wind-bucking contest, but were sent out of the course and landed back of the grandstand. Paulhan, after finding that his machine was standing the strain well, made another try for speed.

Charles P. Willard, in a Curtiss machine, came out for a brief flight, but after feeling the force of the wind, gave up. Curtiss, who had announced that he would try for a mile speed record, also quit speed unprofitable, was not Paulhan, the latter was not content. As the crowds were being sent out of the horizon with two dangers behind him, a difficult and dangerous feat in a wind, the spectators were machine.

BOXED APPLE IS BIG MONEY WINNER

Year's Statistics Show Fancy Prices Paid for Product from Northwest.

Statistics compiled from reports by growers and handlers show that the production of commercial apples in 1909 was a matter of 25,735,000 barrels, of which 2,425,000 barrels, or 7,305,000 boxes, were marketed by western orchardists. California and Colorado report crops of 80 and 90 per cent, respectively, while the yields in the other western states are given at from 35 to 40 per cent.

The crops in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana were shorter than at any time in the last five years, but the growers received more money than their fruit than in either 1908 or 1907. They also received more than the growers packing their apples in barrels, as is evidenced by reports from Boston, New York and Chicago, showing winter apples in barrels selling at from 23 to 25 a barrel, while the boxed apples are quoted at from 25 to 35, with extra fancy selling as high as 75 to 80.

WOULD RESTORE CANTENS.

Massachusetts Representative Offers Amendment to Army Bill.

The subject of the army canteen was brought up in the house recently and an editorial from a Chicago paper was read into the record by the clerk. It mentioned congress as a "bigoted and hypocritical body" for not restoring the canteen.

Representative Barthold of Missouri, who had the editorial read, said he would offer an amendment to the army bill restoring the army canteen.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S LATEST MESSAGE

Salient Points of Friday's Letter Are Herewith Briefly Told.

Congress should sanction a $30,000,000 bond issue, complete present reclamation projects in the west and keep faith with the settlers.

Conservation of the soils should be cared for with all the means at the government's command, and states should aid.

Land should be classified as to values and the right to mine should be separated from the title to the surface.

Coal and other mineral could be disposed of by lease on a royalty basis, with proper restrictions against monopolies. Such laws should apply to Alaska as well as the United States.

Antiquated land laws should be amended and brought up to date.

The "open river" should be revived. Congress might begin with an appropriation of $43,000,000 to make dams in the Ohio above Cairo, Ill., and provide navigable water the year round.

Forests should be jealously guarded and fostered and economy in the cut should be guaranteed. States must provide means to check waste by private owners.

Water power sites must be kept out of the hands of combinations, long-time lease under proper restrictions might give private capital more freedom.

All natural resources must be made to yield in plenty and kept as nearly perfect as possible.

 Entered as second class matter September 15, 1905, at Orofino, Idaho, under No. 107 of the postoffice at Orofino, Idaho, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

We would suggest that perhaps Dr. Cook had gone to look for Andre's balloon, as a solution to the mystery of his present disappearance.

Press despatches state that the Milwaukee will be in Boville by March 1st, but as yet we have no official figures as to when it will reach Orofino.

Press despatches state that the Illo postoffice has been discontinued. If this is so, and continues to be a fact, it will settle the long standing trouble between the rival towns of Vollmer and Illo which will no doubt now unite and expend their energies in building up a prosperous little city.

The eulogy pronounced by Congressman Hamer on the illustrious Shoup, marks him as one of the foremost orators in congress. Well has it been said, "Idaho is the ablest represented of any of the states of the Union in the Senate." To this may now be truthfully added, the house of representatives.

Dispatches from Boise announce that Governor Brady will return shortly and state his views on the question of state-wide prohibition vs local option. We hope that his friends are right in their predictions of his early announcement favoring state-wide prohibition. If we must have local option, let the units be state, and not county or precinct, which with their limited areas only make of the law a mockery.

The result of the recent British election is highly gratifying to the student of history and political economy throughout the world. If England, the nation which for we derived our inspirations for free government, were to turn against the principles of freedom and equality, in bearing the burdens of government, then the world so to speak, through this enlightened and progressive nation, would have taken a backward step in its present progressive civilization.

The county commissioners in calling the local option election have shown themselves to stand squarely on the law. The commissioners have been placed in a peculiar position. Regardless of what might be their personal views or sentiments on the local option question, they were there to act as a board of arbitration, representing all the people in the controversy. On their judgement the county stood to spend several thousand dollars of the people's money, judiciously or otherwise. If they called an election, and the courts should hold that the petition was a violation of the law and should set aside the verdict of the people, then the commissioners would come in for a fair share of criticism at the hands of the taxpayers. As the first petition was clearly at variance with the provisions of the law the commissioners should rather be commended than condemned for their action. In acting upon the second petition and in calling the election the members of the board again, regardless of personal views, hewed strictly to the line, and should have no fears as to the consequences.

We would give a neat sum for a moving picture exhibition of the news "recently" to Governor Brady, of his coming exit from public life. The scheduled date for this performance is March 1st, and the scene will be the governor's private office in Boise.

Alias Summons.
 In the District Court of the Second Judicial District, State of Idaho, in and for the County of Nez Perce, Nellie May Parmenter Plaintiff, VS. Avery G. Parmenter Defendant.

You are hereby directed, That there is in this, the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the Second Judicial District, State of Idaho in and for the County of Nez Perce, the complaint of the above named Plaintiff, a copy of which complaint is attached hereto. This action is brought to dissolve the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between said plaintiff and defendant, for a decree of the Court awarding plaintiff the care and custody of the minor children named in said complaint and the issue of said marriage of plaintiff and defendant, to wit, Charley Herold Parmenter and Minnie Edna Parmenter, and praying for judgement against said defendant, Avery G. Parmenter, for her costs and disbursements in this action. Said complaint alleges that plaintiff and defendant were intermarried at Orofino, Nez Perce County, Idaho, on January 5, 1905, and at all times since have been and are now husband and wife; that plaintiff last past immediately preceding the commencement of this action she has been continuously a resident of Nez Perce County, Idaho; that almost ever since the date of said marriage defendant has been addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating liquors, and since the summer of 1905 he has used intoxicating liquors to such an extent that he has been a great portion of the time incapacitated from the transaction of ordinary business; that almost continuously since the date of said marriage the defendant has used vile and vulgar language toward the plaintiff and called her vile names; that the month of Jan., 1906, the defendant, without any cause or provocation on part of plaintiff, struck her with his fist and knocked her down, and otherwise abused her; that in the month of June, 1908, defendant knocked plaintiff down and beat her over the side and shoulder with a shot gun; that defendant has never provided plaintiff or her children with the necessities of life; that they have two children, to wit, Charley Herold and Minnie Edna May, aged and 2 years respectively; that defendant is not a fit or proper person to have the care and custody of said children, and that plaintiff is a fit person to have such custody. You are hereby directed to appear and answer said complaint within twenty (20) days after the service hereof upon you, if served within said District, and within forty (40) days if served elsewhere, and unless you so appear and answer, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Attest my hand and the seal of the District Court of the Second Judicial District, State of Idaho, in and for Nez Perce County, this 13th day of January, 1910.

The announcement of the candidacy of Hon. B. F. O'Neil for the governorship did not come with surprise to many...

All over this section there is a growing feeling that some man should lead the republican forces of Idaho this year who in addition to possessing a splendid business equipment can firmly unite the party.

No man is better acquainted with conditions in every section of Idaho than Mr. O'Neil. He understands what the state needs for its continued development. He is eminently a practical man and will give the people a conservative, business, economical administration.

Prominent republicans from different parts of Idaho come to Boise and pronounced in favor of Mr. O'Neil's candidacy. He has a very large following among the solid, conservative elements of the party.

His friends have nothing disparaging to say of any other republican who aspires to this position, but they are enthusiastic for Bartlett and already are organizing for the primaries.

They await anxiously his announcement of his views on some of the important questions before the people. The outlook for him in this part of the state seems most encouraging.

Boise, Jan. 14, 1910.

Nez Perce County Prosperous.

LEWISTON, Idaho, Jan. 16.—The regular quarterly reports of the county auditor and county treasurer, which were yesterday filed with the county commissioners, show a satisfactory condition of the county's finances.

The resources are listed at $127,013 and the liabilities at $26,738, leaving a surplus of $100,275.

There was in the treasury at the beginning of the quarter $80,300.63 and there has been collected in fees $425 and in taxes for the year 1909 $243,773, a total of $266,664, while the disbursements have amounted to but $60,389, leaving on hand $206,275.

Assets and liabilities are scheduled as follows: Resources, cash in various funds, $28,737; delinquent taxes, $133,691; tax sale certificates, $19,639; Shoshone county redemption, $29,833; and court house and grounds, $62,168; liabilities, outstanding warrants, $25,297; bonds, $85,000; state of Idaho, $87,210; school districts, $110,000; and road districts, $21,250.

Encourage Timber Culture.

A national plan to encourage the growing of timber in the United States was proposed to the civic federation conference on uniform laws, in session in Washington, D. C. this week, by representatives of the National Lumber association.

The proposed plan contemplates that no tax of any kind be paid on timber land until the trees are manufactured into lumber. The national conservation association will propose a plan to tax timber only when cut, with an annual tax on the land.

We suppose the above refers to barren land likely to be encroached by wise and judicious legislation. As such it would no doubt meet with the approval of all classes, as most of the barren land from which the timber is cut is practically useless for any purpose except grazing.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has taken up the following described property which he will sell under the extray laws of Idaho: One red two-year-old steer, stag horns, white on the belly. HAD THEIR PICTURES TAKEN

THESE children have been employed by us during the last three years and will work for us during 1910. They are good children. We had them fire cannon on the Fourth of July. They have been on the plains with billboards and at the foot of live volcanoes, and have braved the trip to the arctic circle in the interests of our business, but—they have never complained. They are a little bashful at having their pictures taken, but you will notice they are dressed comfortably, and they feed their little pet, the black cat, all he wants to eat, but he isn't the fat kind.

Harry White's Narrow Escape

Harry White, electrician for the Light Company, had an exciting experience last Saturday noon, which came in a case of cutting him his life. He, in company with two other men, was engaged in cutting the ice from the penstock and covered box over the ditch which furnishes the water for power for the light plant, he working from the lower end of the box and his companions working from the upper end. In cutting the ice away it was shoved back under the feet of the cutter who constantly moved forward. When the noon hour came eight feet of ice yet remained to be chiseled out before a passage of sufficient capacity could be had to admit water in quantities to operate the light plant. Mr. White told the two men who were at the upper end of the box to go to dinner, that he would finish cutting through in about an hour and that the plant could then be operated. The water above had been shut off by a board, which in some manner became misplaced and the first thing Mr. White knew the water was running down the flume and striking him in the face. To retreat was impossible owing to the ice behind and the only thing to do was to force a passage through the ice covered hole, eight feet long and eight by twelve inches clear. To do this he had to place one arm ahead and one behind and push his body along the headgear. He was also in contact with the ice on the incline which made his task that much harder. To add to this, his body so entirely filled the hole that the water having no outlet, immediately filled the hole ahead of him, making death by drowning imminent. Realizing his peril, White pushed one arm ahead and bending his neck to one side by almost superhuman effort forced his body through the eight feet of space intervening between himself and the outside world. On emerging from the hole Mr. White was so exhausted that he was unable for some time to crawl over the edge of the box, and when he did present himself in his half drowned condition at the power house his companions laughed at his story that he had come through the hole in the ice to the outside. Having his thorough drenching Mr. White has suffered no ill effects from his thrilling experience.
